CHILDREN'S AID
MOST SUCCESSFUL.

On last Saturday, the drive made for the "little red heart" brought a most gratifying response. Nearly three thousand dollars was contributed during the day.

The money so freely given goes to the Children's Aid Society, one of the most meritorious organizations devoted to uplift work in the United States.

The Children's Aid is made up of women who contribute their own money, devote long hours to the service of saving humanity and ask nothing in return except the knowledge of doing good. There are no salaries, no incidentals, no perquisites enjoyed by the workers. Every dollar goes to alleviate suffering, dispel poverty, and convey cheer to unhappy homes.

Dollars given to the Children's Aid do endless good and should bring to those who donate a feeling of satisfaction over being allowed to participate in a cause so worthy.

WHEN SNOW IS ON THE GROUND.

This is the season of the year when snow storms cover the landscape and ice forms on the ponds. It is the period of winter sports.

There is no place in all the west where so much could be made of winter sports, and yet where coasting, skiing and skating are so little indulged in.

In Switzerland the winter is capitalized and made to draw great crowds of merry-makers and outdoor pleasure seekers. Here, with a car line through the most delightful winter gorge, there is no thought of enjoying the opportunity which there awaits the coming of the lover of winter sports.

Truckee, California, has its winter carnival and special trains are run from the coast cities to accommodate those who find enjoyment in the snow and ice of the Sierra Nevada mountains.

Ogden could have a most successful winter carnival, if there was a well organized movement in that direction.

PURSUES THE BRUTAL BANDIT.

At Blue Creek, in Boxelder county, a storekeeper was beaten to death some time Tuesday night. The merchant had been attacked while at the rear of his store.

The murder was one of exceptional brutality, as the victim was beaten, then bound and gagged, dragged into the store and thrown to one side to die.

If this promises to be the beginning of a wave of crime in Utah, such as other commonwealths have been experiencing, it would be well for Boxelder county to call on the state for aid in making certain the capture of the murderers. No possible avenue of escape should be left open to the bandits, and no expense should be spared in working on all clues.

There is evidence of an automobile having been used to convey the murderers from the scene, every automobile known to have been operated in that district within a day of the crime should be brought under investigation.

Do not allow the criminally minded to gain an idea that they can prey on the public and escape, and now is the time to drive home that lesson.

If automobile crimes grow in number, it would be well to have registering stations on all highways, particularly at the entrances to the larger cities.

CHARLES E. HUGHES AND SUTHERLAND.

Word comes from Washington that Charles E. Hughes has consented to become secretary of state, having been persuaded by Senator Knox.

A correspondent, referring to a conference between Mr. Hughes and Senator Knox, says:

"Obviously, Senator Knox's mission was to convince the former justice that his ideas as to foreign policy would fit in very well at the Harding cabinet table, but the fact is that Senator Knox's job was to get Mr. Hughes to give up a very lucrative law practice for public service in the Harding administration. Senator Knox himself was considered for the position of secretary of state," he concluded.

"The senator's health would not permit him to assume such heavy burdens, so the president-elect virtually commissioned him to win the former justice over to acceptance of the secretaryship. Before Mr. Hughes left he agreed to do it."

This seemingly disposes of the rumor that former Senator Sutherland of Utah would be secretary of state. It is quite possible that Senator Sutherland will be placed on the supreme court bench, an honor which would be in line with his ambition.

Mr. Hughes is a most capable lawyer and has a high sense of public responsibility. He has been a student of foreign affairs and being neither an irreconcilable nor a standfast supporter of the league of nations, he would bring to one of the greatest problems now before our foreign office an open mind.

NEW YORK CITY IS A WILD PLACE.

There never was a western city quite so wild as New York. The dispatches tell us that on Tuesday twenty sharpshooters armed with repeating rifles, drove through the streets of New York searching for bandits and they were instructed to shoot any one attempting to get beyond their reach.

Although the citizens are equipping themselves with guns and police are being placed everywhere, holdups and robberies continue. Storekeepers, and even bankers are robbed in their places of business and women are chloroformed in their homes.

Chicago also has its wave of crime. A sailor and three men in army uniforms turned bandits in order to get a little Christmas spending money. There is evidence that our code of morals is failing to impress many men in the United States.

It was the exception years ago for men to lightly regard the strict letter of the law. Today radicals are preaching violence and reckless fellows are turning bandits.

NOW IT IS THE COAL SCANDAL.

Another scandal has been disclosed by the senate coal investigating committee. When G. H. Cushing, general manager of the American Wholesale Coal Dealers' association, inadvertently was before the committee he said that government officials taking advantage of advance information on the fuel stringencies obtained in their confidential positions declared themselves in on the coal price boosting and "cleaned up" millions. Mr. Cushing told the committee of one instance in which government officials cleared a profit of $875,000 on the sale of 450,000 tons of coal. He stated that he was offered a share amounting to over $100,000 to participate in the deal, but declined. There were many other such instances, he told the committee.

Men who, taking advantage of government positions, turn profiteers and proceed to rob the public, should be dealt with as though they were hold-ups.

One of the greatest offenses against good government is infidelity to a public trust and to breaking down of confidence in public officials by faithless stewardship.

LUNG TROUBLE
Q. Have been bothered with my lungs. Every day I cough up heavy stuff. Besides my lungs I feel pretty good. Got a cold going through the lungs. See a fog and afterwards it settled in my lungs. And will you tell me what is good to get my lungs cleared of that heavy stuff.

THE ANSWER
A little consideration will show how impossible it is to give definite advice as to treatment. In every form of chronic cold, the patient should make sure that the lungs are free from infection. If the lungs are found not to be involved, the examination should be directed to the condition of the nose and throat, for that is often the cause of such symptoms.

SKIN TROUBLES
Q. Have always been troubled with very dry, scaly skin, and eczema about the ankles and legs, and one place on the back. The itching is intense. Please tell me what to do.

THE ANSWER
This affection is quite frequently due to some article of diet which causes the peculiar skin reaction. Usually the food substance is some form of "uretic" which, in general terms, is represented by the white of an egg or lean meat. Since there are many other articles of food which contain protein, it requires a very skillful physician and the employment of special methods to determine the true responsible for the eczema.

There is another type of eczema which is of a nervous origin. The patient should lead a regular life, avoid undue excitement and over-fatigue, take plenty of sleep, with the windows open; partake of an abundance of plain, wholesome food, avoiding fried foods, pastries and sweets. Pay due attention to condition of bowels. Drink plenty of water, eat fruits, and one or two green vegetables every day.

Q. I have what you called "malocclusion." My jaws are very narrow and the roof of the palate is highly arched. If the adenoids are removed will the jaws grow back to normal again? I am 17 years of age.

THE ANSWER
At your age there is little hope of the jaws growing back to normal again, even if adenoids are removed. However, it may be that a dentist who makes a study of this kind of work (an orthodontist) might still be able to do a great deal towards correcting the condition.

Dr. James I. Vance

It was not a preacher but a lawyer who said it. That makes it arresting. He said it in an after dinner speech, which makes it more arresting. "The high cost of low living."

Low living comes high. The most expensive thing in the world is sin.

Let the young men who have wasted his substance in riotous living go on the witness stand and tell us what he thinks about it.

Walk through an alcoholic ward or a syphilitic ward in a hospital, and look at the rotting bodies of the poor wretches who are paying the price of sin, and reach your own conclusion.

The cheapest thing in the world is just to be right.

But the money cost is the smallest item of expense in low living.

The man who stamps on conscience and crucifies ideals and follows the beck and call of the lower side of his nature, following on in the track of lust and sensuality, sacrifices the finest and noblest thing in life.

His own nature is paying the price. He is daily dropping down into the animal.

Many Lavish Scenes in Picture Coming to the Ogden

"The Furnace," William D. Taylor's new special production for Realart, which will be shown at the Ogden theatre next Sunday, is declared to be one of the richest pictures in spectacular scenes and lavish settings which has been viewed for some time past.

Replicas of both the interior and exterior of St. Mary's church in London were constructed for the big wedding scenes, and many sumptuous English society functions were staged. These include a house party, a lavish garden fete and a gorgeous carnival dance. The interior of the famous hotel at Monte Carlo was also duplicated for certain scenes in the honeymoon sequence. A big land slide is another detail that adds zest to a stunning scene.

The picture is adapted by Julia Crawford Ivers from a new English novel by "Pan" which is just off the press.

The cast is all-star, including Agnes Ayres, Jerome Patrick, Theodore Roberts, Helen Dunbar, Betty Francisco, Milton Sills, Fred Turner, Mayne Kelso, Lucien Littlefield, Robert Bolander, and others.

"The Inferior Sex" Starts Tomorrow at Utah Theatre

In the drama extraordinary, "The Inferior Sex," Mildred Harris Chaplin, wife of the famous picture show performer, Charlie Chaplin, plays the leading role with marked ability. The picture portrays many interesting scenes of married life and the question of the equality between man and woman is graphically illustrated. The play will be given at the Utah theatre, beginning tomorrow.

Ever since the Stone Age man, in his opinion, has been the master, woman the slave. You women who know, is this man's conceit, and does the physically weaker actually rule the stronger by a subtle power? Is the fighter, the bread winner, superior to the home maker? Woman of today is playing a new part in world affairs. Has her position changed? Strip man and woman of all social veneer and behold them in their natural state. Is one superior to the other?

The law in his members is triumphing over the law in his mind.

People who live low usually drag others down with them.

If the sinner could be made to pay all the price of his folly, society might shut up; but the penalty widens out and the innocent suffer. This piles on the high cost of low living to a staggering sum.

FILIPINOS ADMIT PART IN RIOTING

Seventy Constabularymen of Isles Plead Guilty to Sedition Charge

MANTILA, Dec. 22.—Seventy members of Philippine constabulary pleaded guilty here Tuesday on charges of sedition in connection with the riot with Filipino Manila police last Thursday night, which resulted in eleven deaths.

SEVEN RESIST CHARGE.

Seven other constabularymen arrested in connection with the riot pleaded not guilty when arraigned. Hearing of the cases of the seven pleading not guilty was set for January 3. Sentence upon the seventy pleading guilty will not be pronounced until the trial of the other seven is completed. The maximum penalty for sedition is ten years imprisonment.

Murder charges against the constabularymen will not be tried until the sedition charges are disposed of. Attorneys for the defense announced the constabularymen would plead not guilty to the murder charges and the cases would be fought through the highest courts if necessary.

Complaints have been filed in the court of the first instance charging the seventy-seven constabularymen with assassination and conspiracy in connection with the fatal riot.

COMPLAINTS ISSUED.

The complaint alleged that the constabulary soldiers "voluntarily, illegally and criminally, for the purpose of killing such members of the police force of Manila as they should encounter, conspired together and solicited marched in military formation and in separate squads through the streets of the walled city, posing themselves at strategic places from which with malice aforethought, they attacked members of the Manila police force, who were complying with their duty as guardians of the peace, firing upon them and inflicting mortal wounds upon four members of the police besides various others."

The seventy-seven accused constabularymen are confined in the Bilbilid prison.

The Philippine constabulary, enlisted personnel is composed entirely of Filipinos. The Manila police force contains a number of American officers and a few American patrolmen, but the majority of patrolmen are Filipinos.

The riot grew out of the killing last Thursday night of a constabulary private by a Filipino policeman when the constabularyman attacked the policeman with a knife. The attack was provoked by ill-feeling on the part of the constabularyman resulting from alleged mistreatment and abuse of the wife of a constabularyman arrested by the police the preceding Sunday.

A shooting has existed between the Philippine constabulary and the Manila police for some time, according to constabulary officers, and it frequently reached acute stages.

ESTAN, Suk., Dec. 22.—Six masked and armed men held up the farm home of Robert Andrist at Woodstock, south of here at midnight Monday night, and after turning the occupants out in the freezing weather, stole sixteen cases of whisky, a shot gun and a rifle. J. W. Hurley of Omaha, Neb., and Fred Olsen of Donny Brook have been arrested.

GEN. PATRICK H. BARRY, G. A. R. LEADER, DIES

SAWTELLE, Cal., Dec. 21.—General Patrick Henry Barry, governor of the United States soldiers' home here, and known as a leader of the Grand Army of the Republic, died at his residence on the home grounds Tuesday following a brief illness which his physicians had not believed would be serious.
